

More Bad Econ News: Conference Board's Consumer Confidence index declined to 88.6 vs November's 92.9. The drop was primarily driven by a decline in household's view of the present economic environment. Consumers were a tad more optimistic about events six months out. They expected more jobs and a better business environment mid-2021.

Conference Board Consumer Confidence

Citi Economic Surprise - United States

